

Artist-Instructor Bio:

I am a retired special education teacher who took a Zentangle class in 2013 and immediately fell in love. I am now a Certified Zentangle Teacher (CZT) and attended the CZT training seminar offered by the founders of Zentangle. I am delighted to be able to share this art form with others.

Donna Lee says, "I am a hands-on learner, so that is my style of teaching. I believe people learn best by doing. It is how I teach my Zentangle classes. I enjoy the excitement and awe on people's faces when they see their finished piece, as most people I have worked with have said, 'I could never do that!' It is rewarding for me to see their surprise and eagerness to try again."
