

Master Artist-Instructor Bio: AWS-DF, NWS-MA, TWSA-MA, ISEA-NF

Master Artist Kathleen Conover exhibits her work, judges exhibitions, gives demonstrations and teaches in-depth workshops. She has been juried into more than 200 exhibitions, receiving national and international recognition for her vision, innovative techniques, and fearless expression that give rise to her award-winning paintings.

Kathleen has earned top signature status in leading watercolor organizations: American Watercolor Society - Dolphin Fellow (AWS-DF), National Watercolor Society - Master Artist (NWS-MA), Transparent Watercolor Society of America -Master Artist (TWSA-MA), International Society of Experimental Artists - Nautilus Fellow (ISEA-NF), and others...

Painting from an early age, Kathleen was influenced by teachers and artists in the fertile environment of Southern California's prominent artists, museums, and galleries, as well as early international travels. She studied undergraduate fine arts at San Diego State University, finished her Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Washington in Seattle, and earned her Master of Arts degree from Northern Michigan University. Continued study with American master watercolor artists over the next decade enriched her depth, understanding, skill, and personal style of painting. She says, "I encourage interested artists to check out my website for my work and teaching videos at the bottom of the Workshop section of the site:
