

Instructor bio:

Vicky Lettmann grew up in Wilmington, North Carolina. She graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, with a degree in English. She went on to earn an M.A.T. in English (UNC-Chapel Hill), an M. A. in Comparative Literature (Indiana University), and an M.F.A. in Fiction Writing (Warren Wilson College).

Vicky's college teaching career began at Slippery Rock State University in Pennsylvania and continued at North Hennepin Community College in Minneapolis, where she founded and edited the literary arts magazine, Under Construction. She was the co-editor of When Last on Mountain: The View from Writers over 50. She has published three collections of poetry: The Beach, What Can Be Saved, and most recently, Listening to Chopin Late at Night.

