Post-Film Discussions – Seeking Moderators

After each film, attendees are invited to participate in an engaging post-screening discussion, where a moderator leads a conversation based on pre-selected questions. These discussions provide an opportunity for attendees to delve deeper into the film's themes, share their insights, and connect with other passionate movie lovers.

BIG ARTS is currently seeking new moderators to facilitate these thought-provoking conversations. Moderators should have a passion for film and enjoy guiding discussions that encourage diverse perspectives. The discussions typically attract a group of 20-30 people, creating a close-knit community of film enthusiasts.

If you are interested in becoming a moderator, please contact Pam Weiner at drijpw@earthlink.net
