

Artist Bio:

Suzanne LaBounty, a resident of Fort Myers for more than four decades, is no stranger to the beautiful Sanibel environs, having both worked and played in our enviable island locale. She is a lifelong art lover, artist, and teacher, creating mandala dot art for more than four years and sharing this multicultural art form steeped in a deep history.

In her words, “painting mandalas brings me joy, peace, focus, and a sense of calm. It is the perfect blend of organization and creativity.” Her greatest satisfaction comes from sharing this ancient art form with her students. “Nothing makes me happier than watching my students become increasingly skilled, passionate, and self-confident in the work they create.”
