Open studio offers students extra time outside of class to continue and complete their artwork.

- The studio time cannot be used for production work, defined as high-volume production; creating multiple pieces outside of class projects is considered production and is not permitted.
- Plan on spending 15 minutes cleaning up before the studio closes or at the end of studio hours; ensure all cleanup is completed before you leave the studio.
- Open Studio will be monitored by BIG ARTS instructor, Tim Smith. Assisting in maintaining classroom discipline, answering questions, and enforcing protocols.

Pre registration is recommended due to limited seating & you can register the day of open studio if there is availability. To register call: 239-395-0900.
